

BOOK BARNs

A program of Sedgwick County Farm Bureau Agricultural Association to increase ag-literacy in local elementary schools

SEDGWICK COUNTY FARM BUREAU®
AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION

Sponsor a Book Barn bookcase for a Sedgwick County elementary school.

- Donate $150 to buy materials to build the bookcase
and/or
- Donate $180 to fill a bookcase with 15 ag-accurate books
- Help increase ag-literacy in our students and future consumers!

Sedgwick County Farm Bureau invites you to become a partner in building agriculture literacy in our local community!

With your help, Sedgwick County Farm Bureau aims to fill Book Barns with books about agriculture and place them in elementary schools in Sedgwick County. Our goal for the 2023-2024 school year is to place 5-10 bookcases with a long-term goal of continuing to place bookcases in additional schools each year.

We are asking local businesses to sponsor a bookcase by donating $150 to purchase materials to build a Book Barn and/or $180 to fill a bookcase with books about farming and agriculture.

Sedgwick County Farm Bureau is partnering with local FFA chapters to build and decorate the Book Barns. Each Book Barn will be stocked with 15 books appropriate to elementary students; these titles will represent agriculture production that thrives in our county and state. For schools that also include middle school grades, we will include additional books targeted at that reading audience.

A plaque with your business name or logo will be placed on the Book Barn. Your business will be included in the presentation to the schools plus recognized in community press acknowledgement for your role in this grassroots program. Book donations will be acknowledged with book plates inside each book.

Thank you for your support of Sedgwick County Farm Bureau's goal of promoting agriculture education and advocacy in our county! We are proud to be The Voice of Agriculture in Sedgwick County!
